

The Well of Dreams

Illustration Competition

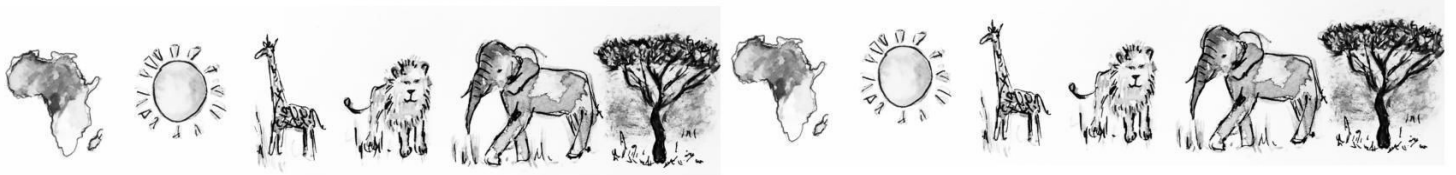

Can you help send Ernie Gonzales to Africa?

Calling all young artists!
Would you like to help an author illustrate a book so it can be published?

Beth Shepherd, the author of 'Ernie Gonzales: The Determined Dreamer', needs your help!

Beth has written a short story called, 'The Well of Dreams', but the story needs to be brought to life with beautiful illustrations before it can be published. Can you help?

Do you like drawing and using your imagination? Are you between the ages of 5 and 12? If so, read on, because this competition is for you!

There are 16 pages to be illustrated in this short story about Ann, a young girl from a small village in Africa. All the money raised from the competition will be used to buy copies of Beth's book; 'Ernie Gonzales: The Determined Dreamer' and her literacy workbook, 'Dreaming with Ernie' to send out to schools in Africa.

Many of these schools do not have books, and as you know READING IS AWESOME and is a great way to learn. So by taking part in this competition you will not just be helping Beth to create her book, but you will also be helping hundreds of kids on the other side of the world, to improve their reading and literacy!

All chosen winners will see their picture in the finished printed book and their image will go on Beth's website. Winners will also receive a signed copy signed from the author and a framed photo of their winning drawing.

COST £1 PER ENTRY (DRAWING). CLOSING DATE; 31ST JAN 2016

For more information see the rules sheet or go to:
www.erniegonzales.co.uk/illustration-competition